

Paul Thornhill

Paul's professional career in the past 26 years has taken him throughout Canada and the United States. A native Newfoundlander, Paul graduated from the School of Business, Co-Op Program at Memorial University in St. John's and then joined the corporate world in the industries of high tech hardware and services, software, finance and leasing.

Paul is currently a member of Team Ontario ActionCOACH, working with business owners in York, Simcoe and Durham regions and has offices in Stouffville and Aurora.

Paul's passion is people and business. His experience with sales, marketing and general management has enabled Paul to mentor others and achieve excellent results through a strong team, directed towards a clear and galvanizing purpose.

Working with committed business owners and/or senior managers, Paul likes to keep things simple, so the approaches and strategies he helps to introduce are practical, effective, and easy to implement in their business. Paul helps business owners achieve the results they are aiming for.

Paul and his wife Lorraine have 3 grown daughters and live in Stouffville. They currently own 3 businesses and away from the office Paul is an avid sports fan, serving as a Minor Hockey Referee for the OMHA and OWHA, as well as the Referee in Chief for Stouffville Minor Hockey.
